

The Asian American Bar Association (AABA) of Houston is a voluntary organization of lawyers of Asian heritage or who have Asian American interests, dedicated to promoting diversity within the legal profession and Houston community.

THE AABA'S INAUGURAL WOMEN'S RETREAT

On Saturday, September 26, twenty-five Asian-American women attorneys gathered at the offices of Greenberg Traurig, L.L.P. for the AABA's inaugural Women's Retreat. The participants ranged from new attorneys to attorneys who have been practicing for more than twenty years and represented a variety of practice areas, law firms, and in-house legal departments. The event provided a networking opportunity for the attendees as well as an opportunity for them to discuss issues that impact their daily professional lives such as dealing with stereotypes, working with supervisors and support staff, and developing mentoring relationships. The AABA would like to thank all of the attendees for their active and enthusiastic participation in the discussions. The AABA also would like to thank Greenberg Traurig, L.L.P. for hosting the retreat, speakers Judy Lee of Foster Quan, LLP, Stephanie Song of Bracewell & Giuliani, and Cristina Rodriguez of Baker Botts, Trellis Spa for donating a door prize, and to Joyce Kao Soliman, Jenny Hyun, Audrey Chang, and Judy Liu for planning the retreat.

OPPORTUNITIES

In-House Counsel Position

A Fortune 500 company in Dallas is looking to fill an in-house position with the following qualifications:

A minimum of eight years of corporate securities and finance practice with significant transactional experience which should include mergers and acquisitions.

Experience should also include knowledge of joint ventures and reorganizations of all sorts, as well as familiarity with bankruptcy, tax, intellectual property and other related legal areas.

Qualified candidates or inquiries should contact Wilson Chu of K&L Gates LLP at wilson.chu@klgates.com.

WLPPFP Fellowships

The Women's Law and Public Policy Fellowship Program (WLPPFP) at the Georgetown University Law Center is accepting applications for its September 2010 through August 2011 program. This fellowship focuses on a 12 month work experience, where fellows from the United States work on women's legal issues with a public interest organization, a governmental agency, or as a clinical teaching fellow at Georgetown Law. All of our fellows learn together about substantive women's rights issues, explore a multitude of career paths through which they can advocate for women's equality, and develop their legal skills through seminars, trainings, networking events and other activities provided by WLPPFP.

The application deadline for the WLPPFP is November 2, 2009. For information about the program and application process, please visit <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/wlppfp/USProgram/index.html>.

Criminal Justice Act Panel Attorneys

The United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas adopted a new Criminal Justice Act Plan entitled: Houston-Galveston Plan in 2006. Under this Plan, the Court has established a panel in the Houston and Galveston Divisions of approximately 100 attorneys who are eligible and willing to be appointed under the Criminal Justice Act to provide representation to defendants who cannot afford counsel.

All attorneys who would like to seek CJA appointments in Houston and Galveston must submit an application and be approved for CJA appointments. We are currently accepting applications through October 31, 2009.

Attorneys who serve on the CJA Panel must be members in good standing of the Southern District of Texas and have demonstrated experience in, and knowledge of, federal practice and procedure. We are looking for attorneys with a commitment to representing individuals who are unable to afford adequate representation in the defense of federal criminal cases both at trial and on appeal.

Rates of compensation for panel attorneys in federal criminal cases are currently set at $110 per hour for non-capital cases and $175 per hour for capital cases.

Applications for membership on the panel may be downloaded from the website for the Southern District of Texas, www.txs.uscourts.gov, and for the Federal Public Defender for the Southern District of Texas, www.fpdsgov.org. Hardcopy applications are also available from the Attorney Admissions Office for the United States District Court, Southern District of Texas, 515 Rusk, Houston, Texas. Applications should be submitted to the Clerk's Office for the Southern District of Texas, 515 Rusk, Houston, Texas. For more information, please feel free to contact the Federal Public Defender's office at 713-718-460.

Please note that your application does not guarantee membership. Each application is reviewed with the purpose of fulfilling the Court's statutory duty to the indigent community.

PROJECT BLUEPRINT

a blueprint for diversity in volunteer leadership

Project Blueprint is committed to ensuring that the board leadership of our nonprofit sector reflects the rich ethnic diversity of our Houston Community. Since its inception in 1988, Project Blueprint has prepared the next generation of emerging leaders from Houston's multi cultural communities to fill key roles on boards and board committees. More than 650 well trained leaders are providing the skills, resources and diverse perspectives needed to assist nonprofit organizations in improving performance and increasing their impact in the community.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Applicants for Project Blueprint are recruited community wide. The goal is to identify an ethnically diverse pool of individuals who have the potential to assume leadership roles in the nonprofit sector.

Candidates for the Project Blueprint program may self-submit, or may be recommended by colleagues or coworkers. Project Blueprint alumni are encouraged to recommend applicants, as are corporations and nonprofit organizations.

The program fee is $600.00 and is due after March 30, 2009, the applicant is notified of their acceptance into the program. The fee covers costs related to the program, including a two-day offsite retreat that is designed to foster camaraderie and team spirit among the participants. Participants are encouraged to seek corporate sponsorship where appropriate.

Classes convene in early spring and conclude with a recognition ceremony honoring the new Project Blueprint graduates.

SELECTION CRITERIA

Class members are chosen based on criteria that include: professional experience, community involvement and leadership potential. Each class is demographically diverse in terms of age, gender, ethnicity, and professional occupation.

A Project Blueprint Volunteer Selection Committee reviews candidate applications, conducts personal interviews with the top applicants and selects the participants.

PROGRAM COMPONENTS

Experts in all areas of nonprofit governance lead the participants through a comprehensive curriculum covering an array of topics related to board governance, crisis communication, legal and financial issues and fundraising.

Following graduation, Project Blueprint alumni are offered volunteer placement opportunities either with United Way or other nonprofit organizations.

Project Blueprint participants enjoy these benefits:

- Leadership Training: A series of workshop sessions that provides concentrated study of issues related to nonprofit leadership and management;
- Teambuilding: A two-day retreat designed to build camaraderie among program participants and develop the skills that are essential to effective team interaction and functioning;
- Volunteer Placement: Following completion of the program, Project Blueprint graduates are provided with placement opportunities in area nonprofits to exercise their new skills;
- Project Blueprint Alumni: Graduates are important ambassadors for the program and support the annual recruitment and selection process. They have opportunities to increase their networks and to further develop their leadership skills through a variety of workshops and Project Blueprint events.

WRITERS IN THE SCHOOLS (WITS)

Writers In the Schools (WITS) engages students in the pleasure and power of reading and writing. Founded in 1983 through the University of Houston's creative writing program, WITS sends some of our nation's most talented writers into Houston classrooms. Today, WITS is the state's largest literary organization and is ranked #1 by the Texas Commission on the Arts. WITS teaches creative writing to at-risk students in schools, community centers, juvenile detention centers, parks, and hospitals. Over years-long residencies, WITS writers take students on a journey to discover their own voice as storytellers. This experience helps children to become lifelong learners, critical thinkers, and confident communicators. This year, WITS writers will teach in 350 classrooms, impacting 20,000 students.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER LI CUNXIN

Li was born into poverty in a rural province of China during the Cultural Revolution. At age 11 he was selected to train in Mao's Beijing Dance Academy. Li was awarded one of China's first cultural scholarships to study dance in the U.S. Two years later, Li defected in a dramatic standoff in the Chinese Consulate in Houston. The story of Li's life is recounted in his memoir, Mao's Last Dancer, which was published by Penguin in 2001. The book, currently in its 32nd reprint, has been translated into numerous languages. Due to the success of his autobiography, the book has become the basis for a film directed by Bruce Beresford. The major motion picture, Mao's Last Dancer, premiered at the 2009 Toronto International Film Festival in September.

Tina H. Nguyen

Law Offices of Tina H. Nguyen

If I weren't an attorney, I would be . . . a professional gift wrapper. (so much work for little pay is very rewarding when the end result makes everyone happy).

My favorite (or fantasy) vacation is . . . Las Vegas on a white sand beach.

The best dessert (or other food) in the world is . . . I am a sweet gal, but generally not into sweets. Any food straight from the sea to my belly in less than 12 hours is amazing!

In my spare time, I enjoy . . . traveling and/or hanging out with friends and family.

In my iPod (or other mp3 device) you will find . . . nothing, I don't own an iPod or mp3, but on my "copyrighted" aka burned CDs are Shania, Faith, Carrie, Beyonce, Rihanna, and Britney (is there a theme here?).

My favorite movies are . . . love stories, some action, anything with a plot that makes me reflect/think/laugh/cry...Heat, Beaches, Pulp Fiction, and more recent Hangover.

The best restaurant in Houston is . . . tough one, I will have to defer, but anything Vietnamese or seafood.

My favorite place in Houston is . . . my office chair (daytime), my bed (nighttime), and anything inside the Loop (all other times).

The sports team(s) I root for is/are . . . my alma maters, the University of Texas and the Houston Coogs (if they win big sometimes, and they are now!).

If I won the lottery, I would . . . buy more lottery tickets, create a pro bono immigration clinic in memory of my mentor, Joe Vail, and take care of my #1 mom.

I recommend reading . . . the Texas Bar Journal's Disciplinary Actions (what not to do) and Memorials (leaving a legacy).

Most AABA members probably don't know that I . . . am a human navigation system. Been thinking about legally changing my name to T-Star! My ad slogan would be "T-Star, let her navigate you through the legal system!"

You forgot to ask me about . . . Why am I still single?
